New Generation – New Initiative

Georgian Young Lawyers Association

Tbilisi 5 January 2008
13:00 p.m.

By 13:00, New Generation – New Initiative and Georgian Young Lawyers Association have disseminated figures on the observation of the voting process of the extraordinary presidential elections.

According to these organizations, the voting process overall is running peacefully. Voter activity in Tbilisi is over 15 %, said New Generation – New Initiative.

The Georgian Young Lawyers Association listed several cases of violations at the following election precincts: in Krtsanisi district # 4 at election precincts # 29 and # 30 there was pressure reported. In Didube district #8, at election precincts # 51 and #53, unregistered citizens were allowed to vote. In some places there were on-duty policemen inside the election precincts, which is forbidden by law.

According to New Generation – New Initiative data, in Samgori district #6, at election precinct #87, ballots on the plebiscite weren't distributed at all. In this case the organization challenged the chairman. In Saburtalo district # 3, at election precinct # 82, there were cases when ID cards lacked permanent addresses but committee members allowed holders to vote. Because of this violation, NGNI requested the results at these precincts to be considered invalid.
